Techno Q

Established in 1995 in Qatar by Zeyad Al Jaidah and Abdulla Alansari, Techno Q is an industry-leading systems integrator. It specialises in audiovisual & ELV systems, lighting, IT, broadcast and business solutions. The company has strong technical expertise in designing, installing, testing, and maintaining integrated system solutions, working with governmental, educational, healthcare, and corporate organisations. Whatever the size of the project – from museums to the installation of key FIFA World Cup 2022 stadiums – Techno Q’s mission has remained the same: to provide all clients with reliable, professional and innovative systems integration solutions with a total commitment on every project.

The judges were particularly impressed by Techno Q’s excellent services and focus on quality. The company aims to consistently exceed its clients’ expectations, whilst driving innovation within the industry. After more than 25 years of experience, the business is focused on contributing to the technological development of Qatar. The company has seen sustained annual growth of 20% over the past two decades, and with plans to become the Middle East’s first choice for integrated, low-current system solutions, that number is set to keep rising.
